STEWARD.

PETER AUGHINBAUGH.

Medical Department,

FILBERT ABOVE ELEVENTH STREET, PHILADELPHIA.

WILLIAM DARRACH, M. D.—Professor of Theory and Practice of Medicine.
No. 268 Arch Street.

JOHN WILTBANK, M. D.—Professor of Obstetrics and Diseases of Women and Children.
No. 194 Arch Street.

HENRY S. PATTERSON, M. D.—Professor of Materia Medica and Pharmacy.
No. 61 North Fourth Street.

WILLIAM R. GRANT, M. D.—Professor of Anatomy and Physiology.
West Penn Square.

DAVID GILBERT, M. D.—Professor of the Principles and Practice of Surgery. White Swan, Race Street—from March to Nov. at Gettysburg, Pa.

WASHINGTON L. ATLEE, M. D.—Professor of Medical Chemistry.
No. 3 Colonnade Row, Chestnut Street.

W. T. BABB, M. D.—Demonstrator of Anatomy.

The buildings of the College are commodious and well arranged, containing large and convenient Lecture Rooms:—a Museum, recently enlarged, having every requisite specimen in the various departments:—a Reading Room, furnished with medical and other periodicals from various parts of the Union:—an extensive Chemical Laboratory, newly fitted up, and spacious, airy and well furnished Anatomical Rooms.

The Students are regularly examined by each Professor on the subject of his Lectures, for which no additional charge is made. There is also a weekly evening meeting, in the Reading Room, for conversation on medical subjects, in which the Students are invited to participate.

CLINICAL INSTRUCTION.—Cases of disease as well as surgical operations are introduced, from time to time, in illustration of the lectures. On Wednesday and Saturday mornings the Students have the privilege of attending clinical instruction. In the Pennsylvania Hospital, perhaps, a greater number of Surgical cases are treated than in any other similar Institution in this country; presenting every conceivable variety of disease. Tickets to this Institution are furnished by the Faculty to candidates for graduation free of expense. These and other clinical advantages have given to the city of Philadelphia much of that pre-eminence in medical instruction, which she has hitherto had and must continue to enjoy.

The degree of M. D. is conferred by the Medical Faculty at Philadelphia, as authorized by a special act of the Legislature. Three years study in the office of a respectable practitioner of medicine; an attendance upon two full courses of Lectures, one of which must be in this Institution, and a Thesis written in the English, German, French or Latin language, are the requisites which entitle a pupil to become a candidate for graduation.

The fees are: for admission to each course of lectures $15; for matriculation $5; and for graduation $30.

The lectures commence on the 1st Monday in November, and continue until the succeeding 1st of March.

Qualifications for Admission into the Collegiate Department.

Students wishing to enter the Collegiate Department must sustain an examination in Cæsar, Virgil, Sallust, the Greek Reader Parts I and II, Adam's Latin Grammar, Fisk's Greek Grammar, English Grammar, Ancient and Modern Geography, (Colburn's, Emerson's or some equivalent) Arithmetic, and Colburn's Algebra as far as through Simple Equations.

A candidate for an advanced standing, whether from another College or not, is examined in the various branches, to which the class, he proposes entering, has attended.

Students coming from other Institutions, must bring certificates of regular and honorable dismissal.

No student is matriculated until he is fifteen years of age, and has been six weeks in the Institution; until this he is merely a probationer, and will not be admitted unless his moral conduct and habits of study are satisfactory.

Course of Study.

The whole Course of Instruction occupies four years; each year being divided into two sessions.

The Classes attend three recitations or lectures a day, except on Saturday, when they usually have but two. The following is a general view of the subjects to which they particularly attend:

FRESHMAN CLASS.

- | | | |
|-----|---|---|
| I. | { | Cicero's Orations, Xenophon's Anabasis, Leverett's Latin Exercises, Fisk's Greek Exercises, Tytler's History, Geometry and Algebra of Hutton's Mathematics commenced, Composition and Declamation, German and French. |
| II. | { | Folsom's Livy, Xenophon, Tytler's History, Eschenberg's Classical Literature, Latin and Greek exercises, Geometry completed, Algebra, Composition and Declamation continued, German and French. |

- | | | |
|-----|---|---|
| II. | { | Cicero de officiis, Herodotus continued, Rhetoric and History continued, Spherical Geometry, Analytical Plane and Spherical Trigonometry, Analytical Geometry, Calculus, and Mechanics, Exegetical Study of the Greek Testament continued, German and French. |

JUNIOR CLASS.

- I. { Cicero de Oratore, Homer's Iliad, Mental Philosophy, Lectures on Chemistry with Experiments, Mineralogy, Natural Theology, Mahan's Engineering, German and French.
- II. { Cicero de Oratore completed, Latin Composition, Homer continued, Brewster's Optics, Lectures on Meteorology, Geology, Botany, Hebrew, Mental Philosophy and Logic, German and French.

SENIOR CLASS.

- I. { Natural Theology, Evidences of Christianity, Moral and Political Philosophy, Political Economy, Tacitus, Medea of Euripides, Œdipus of Sophocles, (Herschel's and Gummere's) Astronomy, Keith on the Globes, Anatomy, Physiology.
- II. { Revision of the whole Course, Plautus and Latin Composition; Prometheus of Æschylus, or the Gorgias of Plato. German, French, Hebrew, Navigation, Botany, Mineralogy, Geology, Zoology, Anatomy and Physiology, being optional Studies, are attended to by the members of any Class having the necessary knowledge and leisure.

Specimens of English composition are frequently exhibited by the various Classes. Exercises in Declamation are attended to in the same manner.

The two Literary Societies also exert a favorable influence on the improvement of the young men in these important studies.

The Course of Instruction in the Preparatory Department embraces a solid and thorough English Education, whilst those who desire to prepare for business, or for College, have every advantage for the acquisition of the elements of Mathematics and of the Latin, Greek, German and French languages. For those who propose receiving a regular Collegiate Education, the course of instruction contemplates a period of three years, but the Student is taken through in a longer or shorter period according to his attainments, abilities and application. The following includes the list of the studies :

Reading, Writing, Orthography and the Definition of words, English Grammar (Parker's and Fox's,) Arithmetic Oral and Written (Emerson's II and III parts,) Book-keeping (Marsh's,) Modern Geography (Morse's,) Ancient Geography (Mitchell's,) History of the United States and Great Britain, (Grimshaw's, Pinnoek's,) Algebra (Colburn's,) Composition and Declamation, Watts on the Mind, Latin and Greek Grammar (Adams' and Fisk's,) Greek Lessons, (Anthon's,) Latin and Greek Reader (Jacobs'), Leverett's Latin Tutor, Cæsar, Nepos, Virgil and Sallust. Throughout the whole course the students are required to attend to English Grammar, and particular attention is paid to Orthoepy, and the use of Grammatical language in common conversation.

Students sufficiently advanced in this Department are permitted to attend recitations with the College classes in any of the branches they require, such as Chemistry, Geometry, Surveying, Mensuration, Rhetoric, etc., for which no additional charge is made.

The PRINCIPAL devotes himself entirely to the duties of his station, in superintending and instructing his pupils, both during the regular hours of study and recitation, and at all other times. He boards in the building with the students, visits them in their rooms, accompanies them to Church, and enjoying their regard and confidence, endeavors to occupy the position of a parent or friend in his government.

Examinations.

There are two public examinations in the year.

A faithful record of the delinquencies of every Student and of the degree of his attainment in conduct, scholarship and attendance is kept; a copy of which record is transmitted to every parent or guardian twice a session.

Instruction and Supervision.

The instruction is given entirely by the Professors, who have been engaged for some years in their respective departments. Tutors are not employed in the Collegiate Department.

The Discipline of the Institution is, as nearly as possible, parental. The President, under whose immediate supervision the building is placed, lives in it with his family, and together with the other officers exercises a constant guardianship over the whole establishment: so that parents from a distance have all the security they may desire for the proper government of their children.

Drawing and French.

Arrangements are making with a gentleman well qualified to give instruction in Drawing and French, for which a reasonable extra charge will be made.

Libraries and Apparatus.

The College Library, to which the Students have access, contains many valuable works and is regularly increased by annual appropriations for that purpose. The Libraries of the Phrenokosmian and Philanthropean Societies also comprise a large number of well selected volumes.

The Apparatus for chemical and philosophical purposes is ample and increasing.

The Cabinet, which contains interesting collections in the departments of Mineralogy, Conchology, Entomology, etc., has recently been greatly extended by the exertions of the Linnæan Association.

Linnæan Society.

The object of this Association is to promote among its members a love of nature and an admiration for the works of God, by cultivating the study of the various branches of Natural Science and an acquaintance with animated nature by making collections of specimens in these departments, as also in that of antiquities, natural and artificial curiosities and the like. A Hall is now erecting for the reception of the interesting and valuable collection of minerals, shells, fossils, birds, quadrupeds, reptiles, insects, coins, paintings, engravings, medals, etc. etc., secured by the industry of the members and the liberality of friends.

Religious Exercises.

Prayers are attended in the College Chapel every morning and evening with the reading of the Scriptures, one of the Faculty officiating.

The Students are also required to attend public worship on the Sabbath in a church of which the Institution has the use for the occasion, unless they bring a written request from their parents or guardians, specifying the particular congregation with which they wish to worship.

They are also required to attend a Biblical recitation conducted by the President and the Principal of the Preparatory Department.

Situation, College Edifice, &c.

Gettysburg is within sight of the South Mountain, a branch of the Blue Ridge, in one of the healthiest districts in Pennsylvania. It is one of the best and most travelled routes between Philadelphia and Pittsburgh, being 114 miles distant from the former, and 180 from the latter place. It is about 52 miles from Baltimore, 32 from Frederick, 32 from Hagerstown, and 36 from Harrisburg, with all which places the communication by stages is frequent and easy, so that it offers peculiar facilities to persons desirous of coming either from the East or the West, the South, or the interior of the State.

The College Edifice is a short distance from the village. It is a chaste specimen of the Doric order of architecture, consisting of a central building and two wings, with end projections, front and rear. Whole length 150 feet. The building is four stories high, of brick, painted white, making a very imposing appearance. It is well aired by a spacious hall, and passages on every floor, the whole length of the building.

Annual Expenses.

The expenses, exclusive of books, clothes, lights, furniture, fuel, washing and travelling, are as follows, viz :

SUMMER SESSION.

Board and attention to room 25 weeks, at $1 62½ per week, -	$40 62½
Tuition and incidental expenses, paid in advance in all cases , -	18 25

	$61 87½

WINTER SESSION.

Board 17 weeks, - - - - -	$27 62½
Tuition and incidental expenses, - - - - -	12 22
Room-rent, - - - - -	2 00
	$41 87½

Washing is $10 00 for the collegiate year.

Wood about $3 00.

Total....$116 75.

Young men may also board themselves, at from 75 cents to $1 00 per week.

Funds.

Parents desiring of entrusting the management of funds for their sons can send them to any member of the Faculty, by whom they will be appropriated to the purposes intended.

Vacations.

There are two vacations in the year, commencing on the third Thursday of April and September, each of five weeks continuance. It is highly important that Students be punctual in entering upon their duties at the appointed time.

Public Exercises.

The Annual Commencement takes place on the third Thursday of September. The Baccalaureate Address to the Senior Class is delivered by the President, on the Sabbath preceeding. On Wednesday afternoon an oration is pronounced before the two Literary Societies by an honorary member of one of them. The Orator for the current year is GEORGE B. CHEEVER, D. D., of New York.

The Annual Meeting of the Alumni Association of the College, is held on the evening preceeding the Commencement, and an Address delivered by one of its members. The duty this year devolves upon Rev. JAMES L. SCHOCK, of Reading, Pa.
